Peacekeepers

Level E

by Amy Bihn

Illustrated by Jessica Wright

Peacekeepers want to help others. Peacekeepers want to make the world a better place. Some peacekeepers win the Nobel Peace Prize. The Nobel Peace Prize is an award given to a person who helps others.

Martin Luther King, Jr. was a peacekeeper. He had a dream. He wanted all people to get along no matter what race they were. He won the Nobel Peace Prize in 1964.
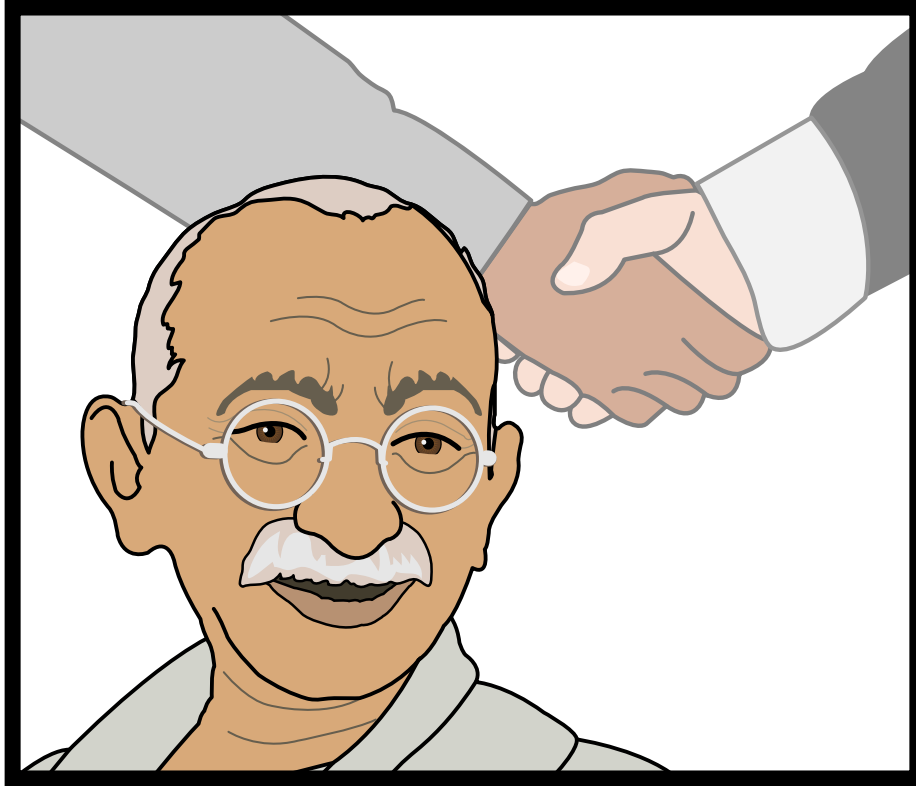

Mother Teresa was a peacekeeper. She helped many people. She helped people who were sick. She helped people who were hungry. She helped people who were homeless. She won the Nobel Peace Prize in 1979.
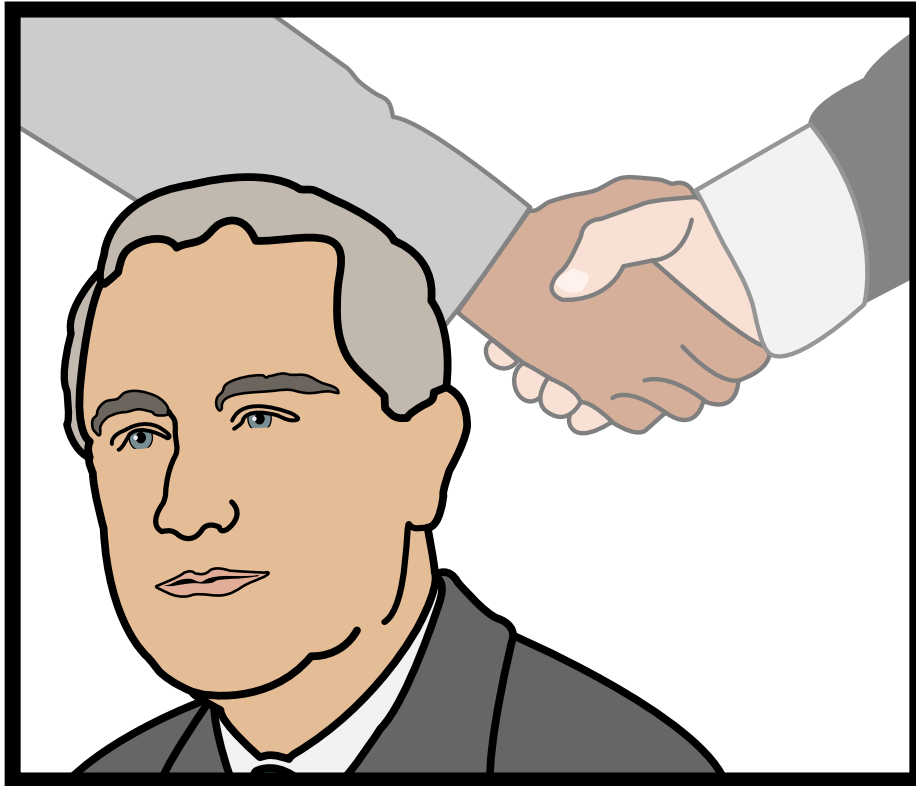

Theodore Roosevelt was a peacekeeper. He helped stop a war between Japan and Russia. He won the Nobel Peace Prize in 1906. He gave the money he won to help others.

Gandhi was a peacekeeper. He helped people in India. He helped people in India become free.

Pope John Paul II was a peacekeeper. He wanted peace around the world. He talked to many people about being kind to one another.

Franklin Roosevelt was a peacekeeper. He helped people during the Great Depression. He helped people get jobs and money.

Abraham Lincoln was a peacekeeper. He wanted our nation to get along. He wanted to end slavery. He gave a famous speech called the "Gettysburg Address."

Benjamin Franklin was a peacekeeper. He spent his life helping others. He was an inventor. He was a writer. He wanted to make the world better.

Peacekeepers want to help others. Peacekeepers want to make the world a better place. Can you be a peacekeeper ?

The End

yes

no

Peacekeepers

want	help	better	peacekeeper	world	Nobel Peace Prize	Martin Luther King, Jr.
win	give	sick	people	Mother Teresa	Theodore Roosevelt	war
want	get along	hungry	Gandhi	India	Pope John Paul II	peace
stop	free	homeless	Franklin Roosevelt	job	Abraham Lincoln	slavery
talk	end	kind	Gettysburg Address	Benjamin Franklin	inventor	writer